

Inner Surge

Signals Screaming

HARD ROCK,
METAL, PUNK

Focus Tracks

[3] Flames in Synergy, [5] Retribution Song, [9] Wolves

Background Information

Inner Surge's unique blend of aggressive styling and thought-provoking message makes them the exception to the rule. As a follow-up to their critically acclaimed "Matrika," the groundbreaking "Signals Screaming" is an 11-track assault on human rights abuses and the end of the international "blind eye". The message is proof that Inner Surge believes people can provoke change, and that there is still time to do so.

Included in this release is Retribution song, a track about human rights inspired by the May 13 Uzbekistan massacre, is appearing in the soundtrack of the horror film Cabras set to release in early 2007.

Press

"Inner Surge is one of the hardest working bands I know, and Signals Screaming is a huge statement. It is saying that Inner Surge is here, and they are here to stay." – ALBERTAMETAL.NET

Signals Screaming will "undoubtedly reach top Canadian music charts from coast to coast." – SOUNDSTREET.CA

Inner Surge is "one of Canada's most promising and most modern-sounding metal bands out there today" and Signals Screaming is an "88/100." – CANWESTMETAL.COM
