Focus Tracks

[2] Catch My Fall, [3] Dare to Dream, [6] No Heaven, No Hell

Background Information

Steve Negus, the powerhouse behind the multi-platinum selling prog rock band Saga for over 20 years has now released a solo project that captures his trademark drumming and songwriting in uncompromising style.

Aptly called "Dare to Dream", the album is comprised of 11 tracks drawn from years of material written during and after his Saga career and is in the melodic rock vein without losing any of the power and complexity of Negus' signature style that helped make SAGA what it is today. Featuring a guest appearance by Jim Gilmour of Saga fame and also veterans Al Langlade and Mark Severn (who died shortly after the project was completed), the album is diverse and compelling, drawing the listener in with complex rhythms, insightful lyrics and catchy hooks.

Press

"Dare to Dream has it all. Excellent songs, great melodic choruses, great guitars, excellent vocals, clear and powerful production. This CD is recommended for every fan of this genre!"

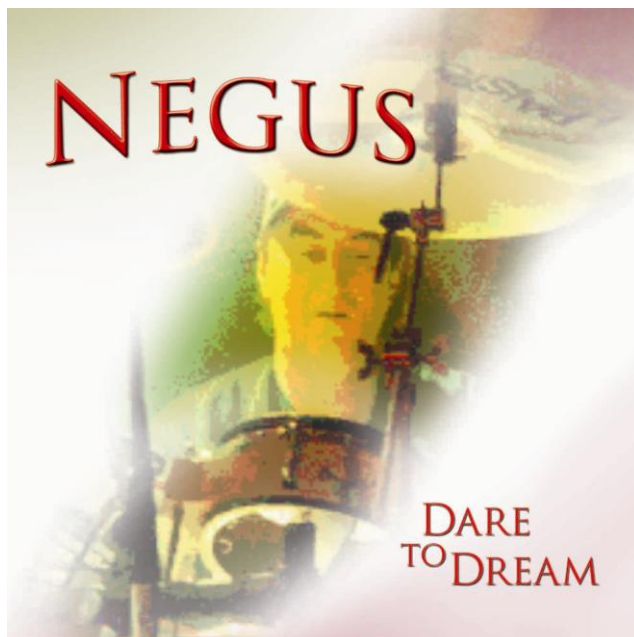

-Melodic Rock & AOR

"Dare to Dream is a musician's album as opposed to a drummer's album. There is the odd variation that takes in progressive angles, and some jazz/fusion stylings, but it's all played within the context of a mainstream rock environment. No doubt Saga fans, plus prog fans should find their way to this album without getting lost. Some very good material to be found here - that's for sure!"
